

Democratic Congo Communications 5G Base Station Pilot

Overview

Is Vodacom DRC ready for 5G?

Khalil Al Americani, CEO of Vodacom DRC, has announced the company is currently conducting 5G tests in the country. The trial is being carried out under the supervision of the DRC telecom regulatory authority, ARPTC. These tests aim to ensure the telecom operator's readiness for deploying ultra-high-speed internet in the DRC.

What is Vodacom & Orange doing in Africa?

Vodacom and Orange have joined hands to form, a first of its kind, rural towerco partnership in Africa. Through this partnership, the companies will collaborate to build, own, and operate solar-powered mobile base stations in underserved areas of the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC).

What is mobile internet penetration in the DRC?

Mobile Internet penetration in the DRC is at 32.3% and Orange and Vodacom's announcement to construct new base stations in the country aligns with the country's new vision for the digital economy as included in the National Digital Plan Horizon 2025 adopted in 2019.

Is Vodacom ready to deploy ultra-high-speed internet in the DRC?

These tests aim to ensure the telecom operator's readiness for deploying ultra-high-speed internet in the DRC. Khalil Al Americani, however, recalled that Vodacom's primary operational goal is to continue expanding its 4G coverage across the country and 3G in specific areas.
