How do I install solar panels?

Get a qualified electrician to connect the panels to your electrical system. Use an MCS-certified installer to qualify for any export payments. Once the panels are up, your installer will run some tests to make sure everything's working. They should also guide you through checking how much electricity the panels are generating.

How long does it take to install solar panels?

Your installer should take one to two days to install your solar panels. This involves: Putting up scaffolding: They might do this a few days before the installation date. Connecting the inverter to your home's electrical system: The inverter turns the DC electricity from the panels into AC electricity to use in your home.

Can you install solar panels yourself?

While installing solar panels yourself may seem daunting at first, with the right knowledge and tools, it certainly is a manageable project. DIY solar requires some construction skills, knowledge of power tools, and a good understanding of home improvement and electrical safety.
